Ordinary is not an option

Congratulations. You've discovered a product of great beauty and intelligence. Airlite doors. They're not your ordinary doors, as you'll see on the pages of this brochure.

Extraordinary, from the start

Airlite began as a family business over 50 years ago. The same values and craftsmanship that began the company remain today.

The Airlite range is enormous and covers every size and shape you could imagine – and some only your architect could dream up. We're pretty famous for our custom made windows and doors. We definitely love a challenge.

Airlite continues to keep up, and ahead, of the game with the very latest processes and equipment. Matched only, of course, by our service, extraordinary products and technology. Just what you'd expect when you're no longer interested in the ordinary.

Phillip doors

Using Phillip internal doors throughout your home adds a real designer touch to an area which is often overlooked.

Our Phillip doors make an ideal sound barrier between rooms or can be used to help cool or warm only certain rooms. With an Airlite internal cedar door, creating a private retreat doesn't mean you have to spoil the uncluttered look of your home.

With a variety of styles, it's easy to match or complement your entry door and give your home an elegant feel throughout.

All doors are supplied raw, ready for your own finishing coat of stain, varnish or paint.

Choosing an Airlite Phillip door will give your home the character and quality it deserves.

Standard size: 2040mm high x 820mm wide x 33mm thick.
Custom sizes: height 1970–2400mm* x width 620–920mm*

*Depends on door style. Check with your Airlite sales representative.

Macquarie doors

Airlite Macquarie doors have been inspired by the historic Windsor region in Sydney. Styled using a Colonial influence, Macquarie doors are decorative and strong in design and have been named after townships within the Windsor region.

Using the most modern of production techniques, Macquarie doors are engineered in nature's most beautiful timber, Western Red Cedar. A naturally superior timber, Western Red Cedar will not warp, twist, shrink or swell. A truly Australian door.

Macquarie doors also come with a wide range of glazing alternatives. Ask your sales representative about the virtually limitless glass and leadlight options available.

Standard size 2040 x 820 x 37mm. Sidelights are 2040 x 460 x 37mm. Door jambs to suit are available from our range.

Engineered solid cedar

Airlite is recognised as one of Australia's leading manufacturers of highly crafted doors, guaranteeing built-in quality and durability every time.

We use environmentally friendly methods and materials in the construction of our cedar doors. Known as engineered timber components, this form is world recognised for superior stability and structural reliability, while maintaining the warmth and visual appeal of solid cedar.

Engineered solid cedar is created from selected shorts generated in timber manufacturing. These are finger jointed together to form long lengths. This timber is then laminated with cedar veneer to create a visually pleasing component.

Lawson doors

Airlite Lawson bi-folds can make a real statement about your decorating style. Whether you are after a traditional or modern look, they offer a clever alternative to conventional doors.

With a variety of styles that match our internal doors, it's easy to continue the same look and feel throughout your home.

Stylish Lawson cedar bi-folds are a practical solution where space is at a premium, requiring only about one third of the floor area using our unique 'half door' leaf. They are ideal for pantries, laundries and separating dining, lounge and family room areas giving you the feeling of space, or the comfort of privacy, all from the one room.

2 or 4 leaf combination, height 2078–2378mm* × width 620–2100mm.*

*Depends on door style. Check with your Airlite sales representative.

Contempo doors

A door is much more than just an entry into your home. It's a statement of personality and style. Airlite Contempo doors bring a modern feel to any home. They're simple, yet bold in design with strong square features that define an entry space. Make a Contempo door a stand out entry feature, or alternatively add continuity to the overall style and look of your home.

Airlite Contempo doors are thicker than usual, adding security, presence and substance. Engineered from Western Red Cedar, Contempo doors can be combined with your choice of clear, frosted or custom made slumped glass.

Contempo doors are available in five designs that make a statement unlike any other door.

Sizes up to 2700 x 1000 x 44mm.
